A Message from Mayor Carlo DeMaria

I extend my sincere congratulations to the graduating Class of 2018. You should all be very proud of your accomplishments, graduating from one of the finest school districts in the Commonwealth. As you move forward on your next endeavor, whether it includes college, military services, or entering the workforce, you have the knowledge, the skills, and the determination to succeed. I am honored to welcome you as fellow graduates and alumni of Everett High School.

Robert Carreiro

Mr. Robert Carreiro, or better known as Bob, was a lifelong Everett resident who graduated from Everett High School in 1969. He graduated from Salem State University in 1973. For seventeen years, Mr. Carreiro was a special education teacher for Everett Public Schools. He also served as President of the Everett Teachers Association. In the early 1990s, Mr. Carreiro began a successful career in the restaurant business that spanned many years. He later went on to work for the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development, working in their litigation department. Bob served as Executive Director for the Everett Housing Authority until his retirement in October of 2016, while also sitting on the Board of the Everett Housing Authority. Mr. Carreiro served on the School Committee since 2003, serving to a seventh term for fourteen consecutive years. Bob served as a School Committee member in both Wards Five and Six. During his tenure on the School Committee, Bob served as Chairman and Vice Chairman. Mr. Carreiro had a keen mind and a sharp sense of business. Although he wore many hats, he will be longed remembered most of all for being a friend to all and generous to a fault. He will be sorely missed by everyone!

Richard Baniewicz

Mr. Richard Baniewicz, or better known as Richie, was born in Somerville and spent most of his life in the City of Everett. He was married to Linda (Quartarone) Baniewicz, a retired Everett Public Schools teacher, for over forty years. Mr. Baniewicz worked for the Massachusetts State Lottery and had recently retired a few years ago. He was a member of the Everett School Committee for over fifteen years, serving as Vice-Chairman and Chairman. Mr. Baniewicz was also a lifelong friend and classmate of Mr. Robert Carreiro. Mr. Baniewicz was a strong advocate for children and he will be sorely missed by all of the people he positively affected during his many years of service to the city of Everett!

"What's twin Tuesday? You mean triplet Tuesday?"
- Shayna McPherson

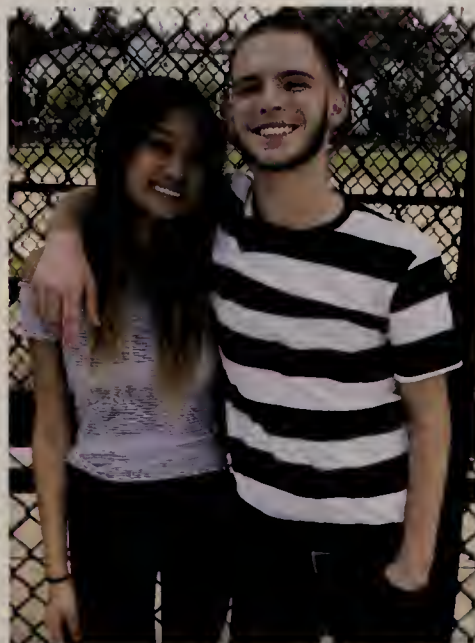

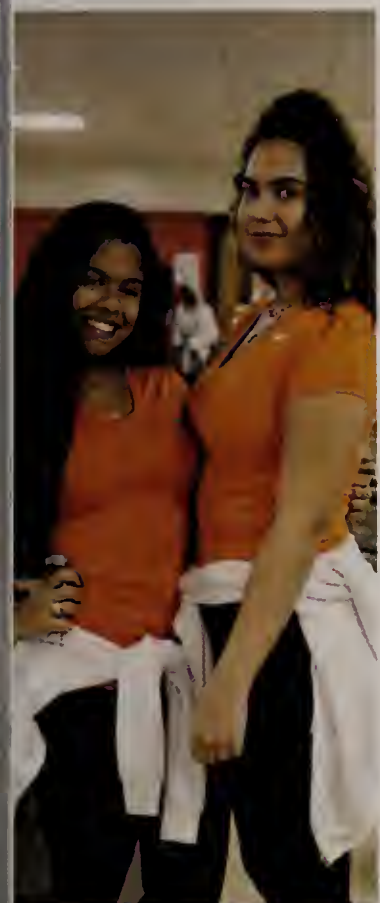

Double the laughs and double the grins, and double the trouble when you have a ton of twins. Followed by a long Labor Day weekend, the students of EHS kicked off their Spirit Week with Twin Tuesday! Seniors are better in two, so students found their other halves and showed their school spirit by dressing alike.

Spirit Week Homecoming Parade

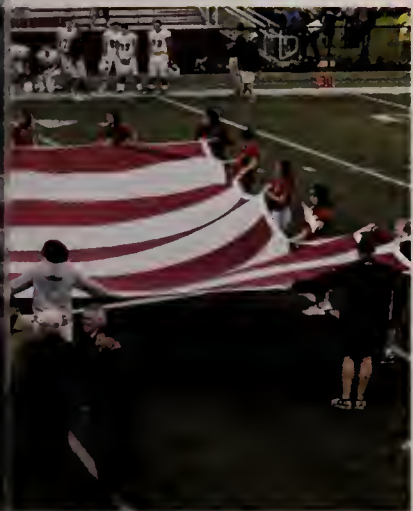

Homecoming is much more than kings, queens, princesses, dancing, and football—it is coming home to what is in your heart. The City of Everett puts on an annual homecoming parade to portray the true vision of the Everett Edge. Roll Tide, forever and always!

Spirit Week Homecoming Game

All we do is win, no matter what. The Everett Crimson Tide football team took a 38-7 lead on Xaverian on this beautiful homecoming day. Everybody's hands went up, and they stayed there with each additional touchdown. There was an overwhelming amount of students, faculty, and Everett residents at the stadium displaying their Tide Pride.

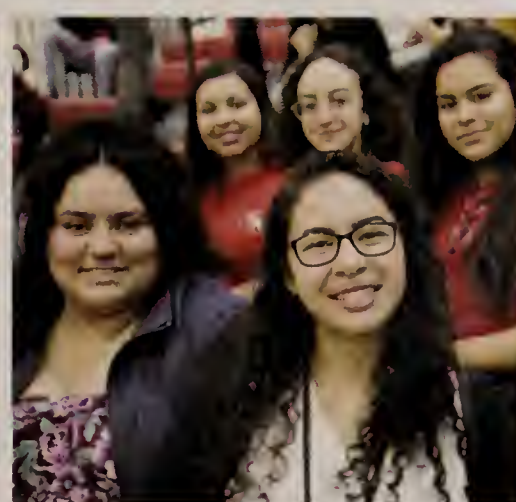

Go EHS!

Pep Rally

Hip, hip, (and Hungry Hungry Hippo) HOORAY!
The pep rally that took place just before the Thanksgiving game gave everyone the opportunity to shine— teachers and students came together to demonstrate their highest levels of Tide Pride.

The Allied Health Academy Interns held their annual ALS Ice Bucket Challenge. The challenge was held near the Glendale baseball diamond on Friday, September 29, 2017 at 2:00 P.M. Many students and faculty members participated, raising approximately $3000.00.

I nominate you!

All funds raised were donated directly to the Leonard Florence Center for Living in Chelsea, MA. Students also participated in the ALS Walk for Living, held on Sunday, October 1, 2017.

ALS Ice Bucket Challenge

"So many people are affected by it and many people don't have knowledge of the disease. The challenge is a way to say to the ones affected by the disease that they have someone by their side."

- Janelle Christopher

"It is important to support this cause so we can spread the word and help fundraise. After the water was poured onto my head, I felt shocked."

- Michelle Oliveira

"I was nominated by Thomas Wong. Shock went through my body as the water got poured onto my head and I had the generally good feeling about doing this challenge for a good cause."

- Amariana Pickett

"It's important because it helps raise money for a good cause."

Be Strong, Be Fierce

We won't back down

The 2017 Everett High School football may have undergone a lot of changes in 2017, but it didn't stop the defending state champions from recording another perfect regular season and return to the state playoffs.

"The formula's simple," said head coach John DiBiaso, who became the fourth coach in state history to record 300 wins with a playoff win over St. John's Prep on October 27. "Offense- no turnovers, no penalties, play fast. Defense - no big plays. Special teams - no mistakes." This formula is a big reason why the team stormed to a 7-0 record in which they outscored opponents by a whopping 309-110. The team's success attracted several Division I programs to Everett this fall!

With drive to contend for state championships, it appears the Tide will continue its winning tradition for the foreseeable future.

injuries this year, the team cheered one another on and gave strong performances at all of their competitions. With the aid of Coach Dibiaso, the girls prospered in giving fun and electric cheers to pump up the fans at all of the Crimson Tide football games. The girls are always driven and excited to toss on their bows and represent EHS at any event. No matter how busy the team's week is, with practices everyday after school, games on Fridays and competitions on Sundays and Saturdays, the girls are always giving 100%.

Throughout the seniors' time on the team they have stayed true to their tradition of lively game cheers and making the community proud at competitions. Coach Dibiaso has done a great job at aiding these girls blossom into the wonderful young women they are, as well as setting them up for success in whatever it is they decide to do. They've had an unforgettable four years.

The EHS Varsity Football Cheerleading team has 8 energetic and eccentric seniors: Dayanna Cruz, Madison Cifra, Kloey Cardillo, Jilliana Douglas, Jayna Clarke, Alea Bellante, Shelby Sallesa, and Lira Encarnacion. The girls on the team serve as motivational powerhouses to the underclassmen and are always there to lend them and Coach Dibiaso a helping hand (sometimes quite literally). These young women are constantly cheering extreme and can't hide their Tide Pride.

The cheer team has participated in multiple elite competitions this season, and even got to pack up their pom-poms for the regional competition. Many of these seniors grew up participating in youth cheerleading for Pop Warner together and have taken their technical and team skills from their younger days, brought them to the mat at EHS, and really showed everyone who's boss.

We do it for the kicks

Some dream about goals – we make them

The EHS Boys Soccer team was filled with hard-working players who dedicated themselves to the program. Although the boys were disappointed for falling one game shy of the playoffs, they were extremely proud of the effort and growth they displayed throughout the season.

This was a very young varsity team and from an early point in the season, the seniors, led by returning varsity members Rodney Landaverde, Bryan Hernandez, Mohammed Madkour, and Ulises Vaquerano decided it was their job to ensure the underclassmen worked hard, demanded the most out of each other, and to remain positive.

In their first season in the Northeast Conference, Everett was able to gain victories over Lynn Classical, Lynn English, Salem, Winthrop, and Beverly, as well as earn points from non-conference opponent Lowell. The defense was anchored by first year varsity members Mikerlantz Accilien, Theo Otenio, Rocco Simon, Victor Thomaz, and Manuel Dominguez, while the attack was lead by Derlin Eldieu and Luis Avendano. Overall, the boys were able to secure five shutouts, four of which came in the last seven games of the season.

When asked about the season varsity seniors Bryan Hernandez replied, "I wouldn't trade my past experiences playing for anything in this world. Every injury I've suffered is a reminder of all the hard work I've put into the sport I love." Victor Thomaz agreed. "I love soccer," he said. "It takes my mind off of everything else. Also, most of my friends that I've made were from the soccer team. I find it easier to connect with people through this beautiful sport".

With 15 players slated to return next season, the Class of 2018 is sure to have left an imprint on the program's future success.

Go after your Goals

Our goal is to stop yours

This year the team was led by four seniors, Captains Jocelyn Duran, Sarah Costa, Lorena Sanchez, and Keila De Pina. They set the standards high at the beginning of the season for themselves and their teammates. They stood out for their hard work, commitment, leadership, and heart. It's been a pleasure and honor to have you as members of the girls soccer program. You've been role models for the younger players and have served the program well as ambassadors for EHS. Good luck - we will miss you on and off the field. Years from now you will not remember the wins and losses of each season, but the people that took this journey with you. The teammates that picked you up and carried you through the good and the bad of each day. The ones that taught you to see the good in all things.

We finished the season 4-11-3. Perseverance and a never-give up attitude from the beginning to end of the season yielded some wins and ties. The girls should be proud of the continued progress and growth of the program. Many girls stepped up this year and pushed the team to be better. The team worked hard and focused on improving; it was a great group of girls that were there to play and their love for the game was evident. On and off the field, the team continued to support important causes such as participating in the homecoming hustle, hosting a "pink game" to support the fight against breast cancer, and volunteering at a clinic for younger athletes to promote and support the youth programs. This team had a great attitude and were very "coachable". This team showed a lot of heart and determination, making the EHS community proud.

Play Hard or Go Home

Don't let the skirts fool you!

The Field Hockey team played every game as hard as they could. There were some pretty tough teams to beat, but these girls never backed down from a challenge. This team has improved from day one and it's because they all bought into playing each game half by half and taking it day by day. Each and every one of these players has a different personality and comes together to form a bond as strong as a family. We had a great team and the seniors will be missed next season.

Britney, Myah, Melissa, Kayla and Victoria all formed a small little bond that allowed them to always find each other on the field and they have worked well to get the ball in the net. Myah and Emilie have played offense and defense well for us and they gave 100% each game. Katherin and Janelle were new to our team this season, but no matter what position I put them in they played hard. Destiny, Mariana, Fab and Tanisha gave me 100% every time they stepped on the field and have shown so much improvement from start to finish. Last but not least, Lexi played a great season. She was the heart and soul of our defense and she kept us in so many games this season because she came determined to play hard. Chris Simeon and Lou Legros became our biggest supporters this season due to injuries, while showing great team spirit and always cheering on their friends.

"I HAD THE PLEASURE OF IMPROVING AND COMPETING WITH A GROUP OF MOTIVATED AND DEDICATED INDIVIDUALS."
- JASON CARDINALE

At the end of the fall, Jason Cardinale and Sthefany Luna were named Northeast Conference all-stars for their excellent performance. The highlight of the season for both the boys and girls teams were late season wins over Lynn Classical. Every member of the team had their best race of the year in a close win for both groups. The team will be remembered for its hard work, dedication, and team spirit that will carry the program into the future.

The Cross Country team, led by an outstanding group of seniors, had a very successful season. The team started training in the hot summer months and maintained that effort throughout the fall. Jason Cardinale and Diana Flores were each members of the team for three years and provided veteran leadership and experience. They were joined by fellow seniors Brendan Calderon, Benjamin Cvitkusic, Gregory Nguyen, Terrell Redwood, and Aiman Salih in making major contributions to the team. Having so many outstanding seniors made the team's first year competing in the Northeast Conference very successful. Jason Cardinale and Aiman Salih were the two top male finishers for Everett in every meet and helped the rest of the team to achieve its best.

The Girls' Volleyball team had an outstanding year with a record of 10-10! They managed to beat one of their strongest opponents, Pope John High, which qualified them for the playoffs, for the first time since 2010. These past two years have been especially gratifying for the three and four year players--Yasmeen Guerrier, Stephanie Ariste, Gianna McDonald, Giana Escobar, and Brenda Eleuterio--who saw the varsity team win just three games in two years. Isabella Lyles also used her fine skills to shine on the court while helping her others teammates thrive.

"Anytime a team qualifies for a state tournament, it's a great accomplishment, the girl's volleyball team is doing very well, it's first in years that they've made the playoffs" Mr. Naumann said, principal of Everett High School. It takes leadership and hard work in order for a team to thrive like the girl's volleyball team.

The team was held together by these characteristics by showing leadership and teamwork, with the help of the team's captain and co-captains. The captain of the team, Yasmeen Guerrier 18', and co-captains Isa (Bella) Lyles 18' and Gianna McDonald 18' were seen as "very authoritative, always there to help, and would make sure to keep their spirits up and be enthusiastic," Iza De Souza 20' said. Not only would they provide help to strengthen the team, but also their skills on the court shined and inspired their teammates. "On the court they really committed to talking in the middle and they tried to solve problems to win the game," Lorena Corbelli 20' said. "They have their own positions on the court, but when they are ever needed to play a different role, they are up to take the task for the team," De Souza said.

We get our daily dose of iron.

Coach Jannino and Coach Ray have done a great job coaching for multiple years by giving students the opportunity to enter matches and tournaments.

Seniors Nick Carrafiello and Lucas Bermudez have done an excellent job being numbers three and four and raising the morale of the rest of the team. They have showed the team what it means to stick together.

These two seniors provided support and leadership for the rest of team, including numbers one and two, Jared Corbett and Jonathan Fitzgerald. They also showed the other players--DJ Warren, Joshua Powers, Jason Suppa, Matthew Barrett, and Evan Mallard--what it means to be a leader.

Carrafiello and Bermudez were asked about how they think the season went. "Our young team is improving," Bermudez said. "The season went really well."

"We executed well and we worked well in what we wanted to do," Carrafiello added.

For both Bermudez and Carrafiello, playing golf is about more than just the end results. "It's a gentlemen's game and I very much enjoy it," Carrafiello said. "It's a simple game once you learn about it, and being out on the course is a lot of fun. The more I practice the better I get so I cannot complain," Bermudez noted.

Bermudez and Carrafiello both have inspirations out on the course. "My inspiration is my Coach Ray and my aspiration is to be the best golfer I can be," Carrafiello said.

"My inspiration is my dad," Bermudez said. "He got me into the game. My aspiration is to one day beat him in a round of golf. I've never been able to, so doing it one day will show how I've grown as a golfer."

The 2017-18 season was the definition of a “rebuilding-year.” With only one wrestler returning from the previous season, the coaching staff knew it could be a bumpy winter. In the end, though, the foundation was laid for future success.

“I knew going in that the lineup would be filled with first-year wrestlers, and it would be difficult to win team matches at the varsity level,” said head coach Nick Erban. “The only positive was that the lineup consisted of freshman, sophomores, and juniors, so we would be able to build towards the future.”

Thomas Nunez, the lone holdover from the previous year, stepped into the varsity lineup at the 145-pound level and won 10 matches. First-year wrestler Omaro Sesay amassed a team-high 15 wins at the 152-pound level. Perhaps the biggest surprise was junior Jonathan Velez, who competed in the 285-pound weight class at just 223. He took 6th place at the Division 1 Central Sectional Championships in February.

Sophomore Raphael Riberio won seven of his last 11 matches, while freshmen Jeffrey Delgado and Anthony Fernandez, and sophomores Wilber Amaya and junior Marclyves Alexis round out the nucleus of a team that looks to be competitive over the next few years.

We have the talent, we look forward to adding a few more kids to the team and get experience on the mat,” said assistant coach Kevin Szulak. “Pretty soon we will be able to wrestle with the best of them.”

Quest for the Net.

The EHS boys basketball team is built on teamwork and success. This season the boys have been winning against all of their opponents leading them to the MIAA Tournament finals and winning the Division 1 North Championship.

Each game has been a blowout, with Everett crushing their competition on the scoreboard. Led by head coach DiBiaso, and assistant coach Mr. Taylor, the team works well together. Their own teamwork thrives on communication both on and off the court. The players have outstanding skill, but also make smart, strategic and clever plays on the court.

Seniors Isaiah Likely, Ghared Boyce, Jhamal Simon, Marcus Alexis, Kervens Cantave, Jason Maitre, and Caleb Jacobs take charge of the team and lead them to victory. Likely thrills with his dunks after taking the ball up the court with an opponent just behind him. Boyce delights the fans with his clean, 3 point shots with 3 defenders all around him.

The skill of this team is shown throughout this season. Boyce celebrated his 2000th point scored in his high school basketball career. He set the EHS record for all-time points scored.

The team has developed a drive and a sense of dedication, leaving everything they have on the court.

Tammy Turner is the head coach of the girls basketball team. She has always pushed the girls to reach their goals. Turner's goal for the team this year was to make 45 points or higher as well as making it into the first round of the playoffs.

"I succeed no matter what gets in my way, to keep moving forward," senior Vickianna Mercado said. Mercado first started playing basketball at the age of 6 years old and has not put down the ball since. Mercado's first game in varsity basketball was a bit scary. However, she knows that her team is right behind her at all times. "As a team, we have to show everyone what we bring to the table, but the difference between that and the upcoming games is that you know your team already," Mercado said.

"My goal was to pass the first round of the playoffs," senior and captain Kloe Cardillo said. Cardillo started to play ball when she was in elementary school and has loved the game ever since. Her 4-year experience at the varsity level has given her an opportunity to know the team's strong and weak points which has helped them improve during the games.

Senior Kiana Wilkerson is one of the captains on varsity. Her years on the team have given her a chance to know her way around the court.

Senior Alexia Bartolomeo is experiencing her first year on the varsity team and has really proved herself as a strong player to her opponents on the court.

"In the first game, that's when you test out your personal level, but as the season progressed we get to know each other very well," Senior captain Yasmeen Guerrier said. Guerrier has been playing basketball since she was in the 6th grade. She is pushing to reach 1,000 points in her last few months on the team. With the support of her teammates, they will reach their goals and leave this school knowing that they always have sister bond to lean on.

The EHS Varsity Basketball Cheerleading team is made up of 6 seniors, Dayanna Cruz, Madison Cifra, Jilliana Douglas, Jayna Clarke, Alea Bellante, and Lira Encarnacion. The seniors on the team are motivational and uplifting to the underclassmen and help them out when help is needed. They always step up to help out Coach Dibiaso, when leading the team to success. Many of the seniors stay late after practice to help out those on the team who are struggling with learning and memorizing cheers. Many of these seniors grew up participating in youth cheerleading for Pop Warner and have taken their skills from their younger days and brought it to the sidelines here at EHS.

The Cheerleading team attends all of the boys home games cheering on the Varsity Boys Basketball team. As playoffs begin, the team also attends some of the away games to support and cheer on the team during big games against huge rivals. The team thrills and excites the crowd with their dances in center court during timeouts and between quarters. The underclassmen also helped decorate by making posters for senior night which celebrated the seniors on both the cheering and basketball team,

Throughout the seniors' time on the team they have stayed true to their tradition of lively game cheers that they pass down to the underclassmen who come up every year while making the school proud. Coach Dibiaso and assistant coach Taylor Leo have done a great job in leading the team to bring a great atmosphere to the games and a very enjoyable four years on the team that these girls will never forget. From cheering on the side lines to performing on half court, the team has successfully always brought life and cheer to all of the teams home games.

Check us out!

Don't go through life without goals

Many positive things came out of this hockey season. The team came together to play their hearts out for the school, team, and City of Everett. The teamwork displayed on the ice was tremendous.

The Everett Hockey Team was great when it came to sportsmanship and keeping their heads held high. They always fought until the end no matter the circumstance and they were good down the stretch.

The team was full of helpful leaders including seniors Jason Cardinale, Brendan Calderon, Kevin O'Brien, Ryan Colman, and Nathan Johnson.

The EHS hockey coaching staff played a major role as coach Erick Kainen gave the younger kids a chance at the sport to prepare them for the future years. The team was able to score goals and keep games close. They played the game at a fast pace tempo.

Captain Jason Cardinale found the net many times this season with his shifty moves on the ice. Along with Cardinale, Brendan Calderon was a great goalie, starter and captain of the team. Teammate Ryan Colman was an excellent defenseman for the Tide and was able to check people against the boards leading to many turnovers. Nathan Johnson was all over the ice, diving in front of pucks to prevent the other team from scoring. He was also fierce along the boards checking opponents and making accurate passes to his teammates. He was a great leader. Kevin O'Brien was a speedy skater and could be up and down the ice within a matter of seconds. Within the game, he made sure to pass the puck unselfishly to his teammates.

The hockey team wouldn't be the same if it weren't for the senior leaders and for the other younger members who were just as important.

The hockey team is looking to improve throughout these next couple of years with its new upcoming players. Thank you to all the fans, players, and coaching staff that led to yet another great EHS hockey season.

Winter track athletes prepared themselves for the new season and their competition. This year's team started out with a new successful division. "We compete and practice at a higher level to win meets," senior Aiman Silah said. Since moving onto a new division, the team has faced multiple new competitors, such as Peabody, who were the former state champions.

"I didn't know what to expect," senior Ben Cvitkusic said about going into the new league. It started off as a challenge against Beverly and Danvers, but the team bounced back with a win over Gloucester, followed by other schools.

The track team has made many great memories together, and as for the seniors, they have made a platform for themselves. Seniors have gone on to place at their meets and make a name for Everett. Cvitkusic ran the 4x400 meter relay for the first time at their first meet against Peabody, which they won. Cvitkusic went on to prove to his team that whenever he is needed, he is up for the task and put his best efforts forward.

Long distance runner, Salih, who does the 1000 meters and 4x4, went on to obtain first place in most of his races. He is seen as a great leader to his teammates and has shown that by being a good captain. Along with his fellow long distance teammates, senior Gregory Nguyen who does mid-distance, hopes to leave his legacy by showing others to never to give up. He is a true runner and continues to compete at his absolute best.

As a leading example for female runners on the team, Flores does the mile and has won races in previous years doing track.

Senior Reggie Jean, who does the 55 hurdles has proven himself as a great captain by working hard and encouraging his teammates to be their best. As a sprinter, Jean and his relay team have run the 4x200 meter relay at the Reggie Lewis Center where they have had memorable victories.

Senior Jason Guzman stepped into the circle and served as one of the throwers for Shot Put. Over the past few years, Guzman has placed in the GBL (Greater Boston League) championship.

Seniors of winter track have proven themselves to be great and hard working leaders. As it is their last year, every one of them have kept it memorable and continue to thrive for Everett.

Managing being a coach and a teacher:

Managing being a coach and a teacher is a good problem to have. As a staff, we tell our students that they are "student athletes," not "athlete students". School ALWAYS comes first, and the same goes for my job as a teacher. As a program, we are really proud of some of our former student athletes who are out in the world doing amazing things.

Program improvement: The program we inherited was already strong, thanks to previous coaching staffs. We are proud of the direction we are heading as a program and thankful for the young men we are lucky to coach. We truly have some amazing kids who excel in the classroom as well as on the field. If we continue to work with kids like this, the winning will take care of itself.

Coaching this team: I love coaching this team because of our young men. These student athletes are proud to wear "EVERETT" across their chest because it represents everything that means to so many people. I also love coaching this team because of the great support we receive from Administration and the community. Mr. Foresteire and his administration provide us with the tools we need to succeed and we could not ask for a better support staff. The program would not be where it is today without the hard work and dedication of Steve Gallagher and Joel Levine. They have been with me since day one and I owe them immensely.

The Crimson Tide Baseball program will be filling in a large number of spots this upcoming season after losing numerous contributing Seniors. Senior Captain Jason Hennessey will look to shoulder the load on the mound and at the plate for the Tide in 2018. Jason has pitched in big spots for 3 years and will continue this Spring. The Junior athletes, Jonathan Fitzgerald, Evan Mallard, Alex Brown, and Michael Sullivan will be looked upon to step up in a large way. Since combining the Everett and Somerville rowing programs, each year the team has become faster and more competitive. This year was no exception. Our most important race of the year takes place at the end of the season: The Mystic River Championships - formerly the GBL championship. Everett raced against our river crews: Mystic Valley, Malden, and Medford. Highlights include: Varsity boys first and second fours winning silver, varsity boys eight winning silver, and Varsity girls first eight boat winning gold! At the end of the year race, Junior Souza was named to the Boys Varsity All-Stars boat. On this team, there are more seniors than ever before. They helped this team grow immensely. In softball, good girls steal.

The 2017 Crimson Tide Softball team will be entering a new conference this year. They will be faced with stronger competition in the Northeast Conference, but the Crimson Tide will rise to that level of play. Last year, despite its strong effort, the Crimson Tide came extremely close in many games, losing to opponents by only one or two runs. Although the team's hard work did not conclude in a win, it did pay off. The EHS Softball team never quit, despite the fact that they did not have an astounding record. The girls can be proud of the loyalty, respect, and friendship that they showed to one another, which contributes more to the value of life than wins and losses. In 2018, senior players will move from JV to Varsity, making a strong competitive team. We look forward to contributions from all the seniors, including returning varsity players Izza Bourouis and Kloe Cardillo.

The Boy's Varsity Lacrosse Team finished their second full season and their first full season in the Northeast Conference. The NEC is full of high quality competition with seasoned lacrosse players. Many of these programs have had teams for decades. However, despite the stiff competition and high quality lacrosse, Everett's lacrosse team was the hardest working and most persistent team in the NEC. After each game, the opposing coaches would shower Everett's players with compliments for their resilience and perseverance. These are truly the best accolades a new program can garner.

Everett's boy's lacrosse team improved with every practice and game. With every year, Everett lacrosse looks to improve on the previous year's gains, and this year was a success due to Everett's excellent leadership of Aiman Salih and Joseph LaMonica. Both of these young men led by example and played hard until the last whistle, despite being down in many competitions. They truly embody what it means to be from Everett. But it wasn't just the leadership that kept this group cohesive. Everett wants to thank the ever jovial Anthony Sousa, the unflinching Tyler Lord, the resilient Josue Quijada, the "lefty" goal scorer Louis Staffieri, the hard-nosed Jack Calasciabetta, the dangling Brendan Calderon, the crease monkey Ali Drissi, the pizza-man Nathan Johnson, the Sophomore sensation Jason Suppa, and Kevin "Flow" O'Brien. Everett looks to improve on the gains from this year by recruiting younger, athletic boys to play for the 2018 campaign. Lacrosse is the fastest game on two feet, which makes it fun for both spectators and players alike.

The track team made great strides last season. The Girls' team saw success from newcomers Victoria Chaparro, Cyara Lambert, and Carolann Cardinale. Returning athlete, Nathalie Douyon, was the top hurdler as well as our top 100 meter runner, and the third leg in the girls' relay. State qualifying athletes, Victoria Chaparro and Cyara Lambert, were the top sprinters in the 100 and 200 meter events. Carolann Cardinale had an amazing season throwing the javelin, qualifying her for States. Fabiolle Jean was the top girl thrower of the season.

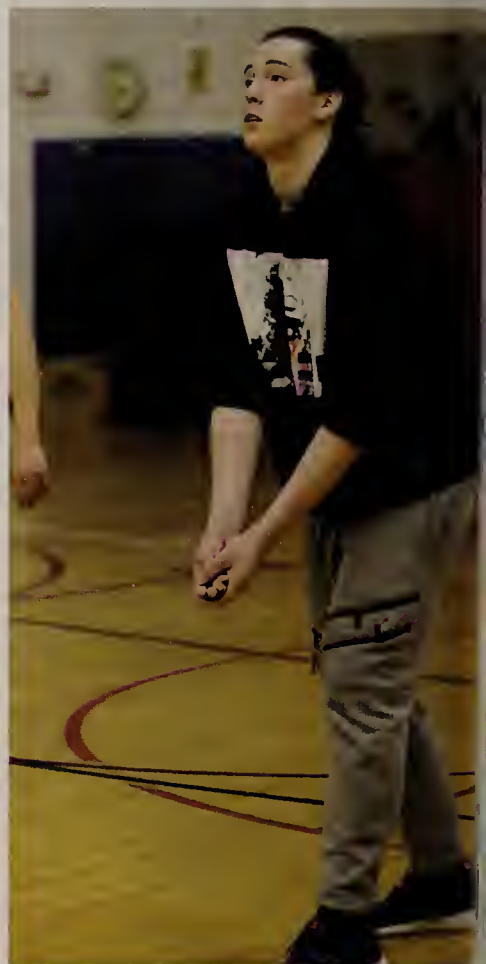

The Boys team also had a successful season as well. Harchdy Souffrance led the team in both the long and triple jump. He also participated in the 4x100 relay team. Captain Jason Guzman led the team to success all season with his throwing ability. Captain Rayginal Jean consistently improved his skills every single meet as the top hurdler.

The idea had been floating around for a few years, but in the Spring of 2017, it became a reality: Everett High School would field a Boys Volleyball team. Nearly forty students signed up for tryouts in March, and by April a squad of twenty strong practiced and scrimmaged three times a week. This inaugural squad was led by captains William Barrett and Geral Rivera. Senior Delrique Richardson developed into a formidable threat as an outside hitter, while John Fanfan made sure nothing near him hit the ground. A club team for now, the future looks promising with talented underclassmen getting valuable experience, especially Mario Rivera, Josh Powers, and Tony "the Touch" Limongi.

Special Moments

In 1992, Superintendent of Schools Frederick F. Foresteire made a decision to change the direction of the high school football program. That decision was to hire his Varsity Basketball coach, John DiBiaso to also be his Varsity Basketball Football coach.

John DiBiaso was already an accomplished coach in high school basketball leading the Crimson Tide to the State Finals in 1991. It just so happens that he did a bit of coaching on the gridiron when he brought a State Title to Weston High School in 1991 and led St. Patrick's of Watertown to the brink of a title earlier in his career. Coach DiBiaso, a 1974 graduate of Everett High School, had been on Championship teams as a player and brought with him the winning tradition of the Crimson Tide Football program.

Coach DiBiaso's choice for Assistant Head Coach was not hard when he chose his long time friend and Everett icon, Mike Milo, as an Assistant Coach. Coach Milo brought the tough gritty edge to the offensive and defensive lines that had been missing for some time. His coaching style made him a favorite of many of his players at the pop warner ranks in Everett and it carries over to today.

Everett High School is thankful for the job that Coach DiBiaso and Coach Milo have done to once again make Crimson Tide Football the greatest program in the state. The City of Everett will forever be grateful for the over 25 years of excellence that we have enjoyed due to the hard work and determination of the two best football coaches in the history of Massachusetts.

Thank You Coach DiBiaso and Coach Milo from the hundreds of players you have molded, from the Administration of Everett Public Schools, from your colleagues and friends and from the thousands of faithful Everett High School Football fans who have been fortunate enough to watch the two greatest coaches reach unparalleled heights. ROLL TIDE!

Thank you!

Kristi Ho

"This was my favorite year; it was the most hardworking group and student leaders played a large role. The season's success was unbelievable."

Andres Jimenez

"My favorite part about the season is meeting and spending time with this enthusiastic group of kids, and watching their tremendous growth in one season as musicians and people."

Emmanuel Aybar

One band, one sound.

Marching with Tide Pride in every step.

"Every day with this band was a favorite memory; we have a bond that cannot be broken."

Thomas Pham

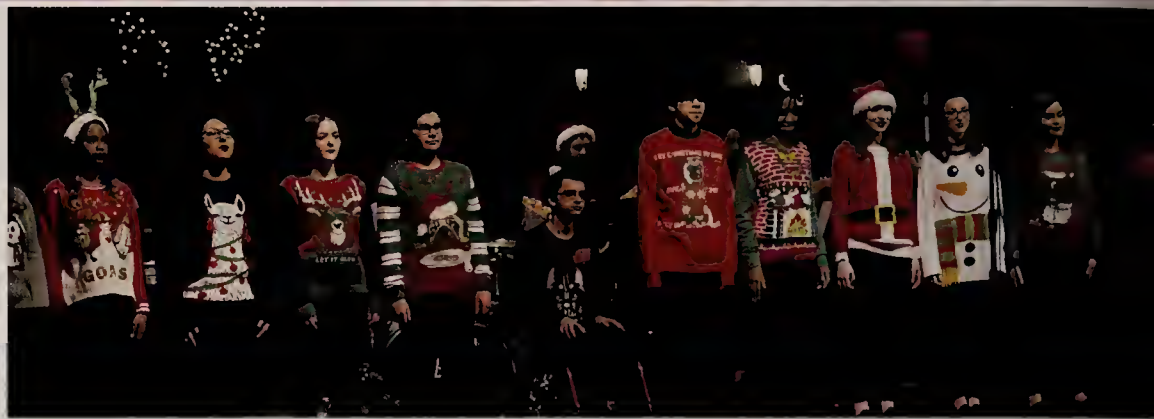

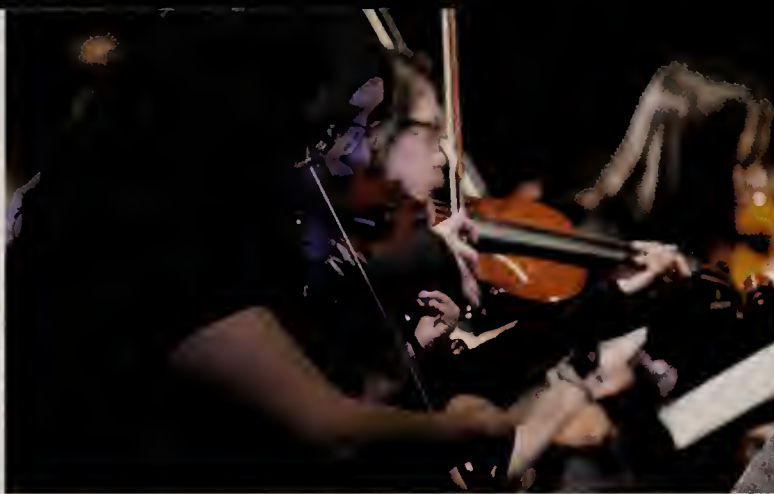

The Everett Crimson Tide Marching Band had an undefeated season with their show titled Home of the Brave. The band captured first place at six competitions, including the NESBA Championship, and ended the season with a score of 94.6. Consisting of more new members—the majority of which are in middle school—than returning members, the band is proof that hard work and dedication pay off.

The Theatre Company

As the fun loving group they are, the Theatre Company took a quick trip down the rabbit hole in their performance of "Alice in Wonderland" and soon decided the wacky adventures were not enough, leading them to zoom right over to Willy Wonka's Chocolate Factory and over The Bridge. The students have put an impeccable amount of love, passion, and dedication into each production they have displayed. At the end of the day, the title of their 2017 METG Festival show said it best: "You Can't Take It With You." The actors and crew have truly given it all they've got in their years producing and have acknowledged that their memories are what matter most.

2018 SCHOLASTIC ART AND WRITING AWARD WINNERS

The earth without art is just eh

Art makes everything awesome!

The Everett High School Art Department had a very exciting and creative year! Throughout the last few years, senior art students have been busy sharpening their techniques with various media and developing their conceptual ideas as they prepare to submit work to the culminating annual Senior Art Exhibition this spring. With approximately 26 seniors in upper level and advanced art classes and over 130 seniors in our foundation level classes, we have seen a collection of skill and talent this year. It has been a busy year as our students have been improving artistic techniques and developing their conceptual ideas for new and ongoing art projects. This year we are so proud of our student achievements as we brought home a total of 18 senior student recognitions in the 2018 Boston Globe Scholastic Art and Writing Awards Competition, a prestigious regional and national competition. Jessica Carvalho received a Silver Key for her mixed media artwork titled "Buried Secret." Jason Guzman received 2 Silver Keys for his photography titled "Arrival" and "Night Light" as well as 1 Honorable Mention titled "Introvert 2." Kristi Ho brought home 1 Silver Key for her photograph titled "Abandonment" and 6 Honorable Mentions for her photographs: "Out of My Control #1," "Out of My Control #3," "Perpetual," "In Motion," "Wandering," "Timeless." Daniella Imbriano received a Silver Key for her photograph titled "All of the Stars." Amariana Pickette brought home 3 Gold Keys for her photographs: "Pensive," "Say Cheese," "Transit," 1 Silver Key for her mixed media artwork titled "Vision," and 1 Honorable Mention for her photograph "Bleeding Sky." Laura Scarpellini received an Honorable Mention for her digital art titled "Enlist Now." We are extremely proud of all of our students' accomplishments and the Art Department sends ecstatic congratulations to all senior art students!

Different backgrounds and

form The Tide of EHS

Class of 2018

History

The year is 2014. We, as young and feeble-minded eighth graders, sat in our respective elementary schools contemplating our prospective high school futures. Our worries quickly changed from “what specialist do I have today?” to “what freshman year classes should I choose?” At our moving on ceremonies, we waved recess and Fun Day goodbye and greeted (with not-so-open-arms) rotating schedules and seven period days.

As freshmen, we were separated from our friends into teams 1, 2, 3, and 4 and argued which was the best. We accepted that we were a melting pot composed of an abundance of backgrounds and beliefs, coming together to create one great wave. We forged new relationships with new faces and discovered that, well, high school wasn't too scary after all. We ran with our friends in a three minute span to get to class before the upperclassmen flooded the halls. We matched our schedules with those of our besties to figure out which classes we were in together, or if we at least shared a lunch or two. We knew that was only the beginning. We are no longer freshmen, but I guess you could say that we're still fresh, man.

As sophomores, we came back to Everett High with the attitude that “well, we're no longer freshmen, but we aren't upperclassmen either!” Returning to the school, we felt comfortable (though uncomfortable at the thought of MCAS). We definitely didn't have our schedules glued to our hands like the year prior, and could quickly memorize where we had to be on day 2 rotation 6. It wasn't long before the 7th of October 2015 rolled around, or more recognizably, the pipe burst, #neverforget. It was a quick escape from class that granted us with a day off from school.

As juniors, we as a class matured. Things like MCAS and not being able to open a locker no longer crossed our minds, and the concept of college took over. SAT's became our nemesis and small school dances escalated to prom. Stadium football games turned into an enormous Gillette Super Bowl, resulting in one more title (senior year, too). The Theatre Company continued to grow and performed two thriving shows (one of which they took to a festival competition). The STEM team brought their inventions to New York and earned a national title. Pop Vox got the gold with their captivating song and dance at one of their show choir festivals. With all of these accomplishments to take pride in, each one of us had to take a few moments, weeks, or months to ourselves to really consider what our futures held— whether it be going into the workforce, college, or Armed Forces. We were constantly questioned “what do you want to be when you're older?” Responses of “a princess” or “a rockstar” at age 6 turned into “a teacher” or “a nurse” at age 16.

The year is 2018. We, as sensible young-adults, sit in our homeroom desks thinking about how bell schedules are almost a thing of the past. Our worries quickly changed from “what colleges am I applying to?” to “what will my life after high school consist of?” At graduation, that will be the last time, we, as the Everett High School Class of 2018, will be together at once; draped in maroon and white. We came in as a small wave formed by a soft breeze, and are leaving as a colossal crimson tide constituted by tremendous winds. Congrats and forever Roll Tide!

WE DID IT!
